Gwinnett County Public Library welcomes two new board members

Babs Wagoner and Phillip Saxton join Gwinnett County Public Library Board of Trustees

LAWRENCEVILLE, GA (12 January 2009) – Gwinnett County Public Library welcomes two new board members. Both Babs Wagoner and Phillip Saxton were appointed to the Gwinnett County Public Library Board of Trustees on Tuesday, January 6, 2009 by the Gwinnett County Board of Commissioners.

“The addition of Babs and Phillip to the Library’s Board of Trustees ensures that the organization will continue to benefit from a diversity of knowledge, expertise and community involvement. Both Babs and Phillip are going to be great board members because both possess strong leadership skills, a proven track record, and a devotion to Gwinnett County” said library director, Nancy Stanbery-Kellam.

Babs Wagoner, a 10-year resident of Gwinnett County and employed in educational settings for the last 8 years, was nominated by Shirley Lasseter, District 1 Commissioner. Her term began on January 6, 2009 and concludes on December 31, 2012.

Phillip Saxton, president of MiTowne and business development consultant with The Platinum Business Group was nominated by Mike Beaudreau, District 3 Commissioner. His term began on January 6, 2009 and concludes on December 31, 2012.

Phyllis Oxendine was reappointed and nominated by Charles Bannister, County Commission Chair. In addition to Wagoner, Saxton and Oxendine, members of the Board include K. Dale Todd and Margaret Tiller.

At the Board of Trustees meeting on Monday, January 12, the Board of Trustees nominated officers: Phyllis Oxendine, Chair; K. Dale Todd, Vice Chair; Margaret Tiller, Secretary; Babs Wagoner, Treasurer.
